We are going hybrid
Secure your presence onsite and digitally.
To our Partners from Industry and Societies

The next St. Gallen International Breast Cancer Conference will take place from 17 to 20 March 2021 in Vienna/Austria. Experts and virtually all major breast cancer cooperative groups and centres worldwide, actively engaged in basic and clinical research as well as in clinical management of patients with breast cancer, will again present the latest data, critically reviewed by leading specialists in the field. The conference closes as usual with an update of the widely acknowledged «St. Gallen International Consensus on the optimal primary treatment of women with early breast cancer», which will be published only a few months after the conference.

We are going hybrid – secure your presence onsite in Vienna and digitally on the online conference platform! The very special features of the 17th conference refer to the COVID-19 situation worldwide. We are looking forward to meet many professionals in person again and will very much enjoy meeting old and new friends. For those professionals who will not be able to travel, we will have the possibility to join the conference virtually. Delegates will be able to follow the programme including the Consensus Panel via cutting-edge virtual platform. In any case, the 17th edition of this Conference will take place for sure and we all look very much forward to be connected again with each other.

We invite you to take advantage of this unique opportunity to present your company and your portfolio to a most interested professional audience as a «major player» in the field. We offer various kinds of options for you to participate in this event and to build up and expand your network within the global oncology community, dedicated to improve the outcome of treatment in women with breast cancer.

Please find attached our catalogue of sponsorship opportunities: Exhibition, satellite symposia, educational grants for the distribution of knowledge and many more opportunities. Kindly note that especially the 7 satellite symposia slots available are sold on a first-come, first-served basis. Do not hesitate to get in touch soon with the local conference organizer Mondial.

It would be our pleasure to welcome you to this important 17th St. Gallen International Breast Cancer Conference in March 2021 in Vienna/Austria.
